We use only the finest first-quality fibres from pure-bred Cashmere goats to create one of the world's most coveted yarns. Alan Paine sources its Cashmere from Mongolia, known for the highest quality available. Despite its lightweight feel, Cashmere offers exceptional insulating warmth, making it the perfect transitional layer for unpredictable weather. It is incredibly soft, highly breathable and low maintenance, requiring only occasional washing.

Explore three new styles, including a striking double twist cable quarter zip, a luxury hoodie plus a cable beanie hat offering the ultimate in cosy comfort.

GEELONG

Despite the lightweight nature of this wonderfully breathable fibre, Geelong Lambswool offers a unique blend of warmth, softness and drape. Sourced from the Victoria region in South Eastern Australia and spun by Europe's oldest spinner, Z. Hinchliffe, Geelong's featherlight cosiness is unmatched. To earn the prestigious Geelong Lambswool label, the fibres must meet strict quality standards, including a specific yarn diameter.

Explore three new styles, from a ribbed zip-through to a multi-purpose zipped gilet, in rich new season colours such as Irish cream, lingonberry and jade.

LAMB SWOOL

We use only the first clip from baby lambs, spun by Europe's oldest spinner, Z. Hinchliffe. We carefully monitor the micron size, or fibre diameter, to ensure the highest quality and softness—standards our customers worldwide have come to expect from Alan Paine Lambswool. The maximum micron size we use is 19, which is a lower micron than many of our competitors.

Explore the new argyle front quarter zip. This, along with our regular cold-weather favourites, is available in fresh colour combinations for a seasonal update.
